Of a Family Drowned in Massechusetts Four Drowned in Minnesota—Miners Killed in California.

There Rivers, Que., July 22.—A voyageur, just arrived here, brings tidings of a dreadful drowning accident to a party of lumbermen, of which he was a member. The drowning occurred, he states, on the Mattawan river, which enters the St. Maurice some fifty or sixty miles above Pines, a post on the St. Maurice, twenty miles or so from this place. The narrator formed one of a gang of forty or fifty who were engaged on the log drive for one of the lumber firms doing business here. About three weeks ago the drive was at one of the rapids on the Mattawan, and the men had procured some whisky from the canteen. With this they got exhiiarated, and in a drunken freak decided to run the rapids. Accordingly one of the log-driving boats was run out into the stream. Fourteen men boarded her. The bowsman and steersman were, as is usually the case, half-breeds, and in their sober senses would have found no difficulty in running the rapids safely. With songs, etc., they showed the boat off and all went well until the middle of the rapids was reached. Then those on the banks saw the steersman take out his paddle for an instant. This was fatal, as the current, which was terrific, awung the boat around broadside and over she went, throwing her load into the seething water. Those on shore made all the attempts possible to rescue their unfortunate comrades, but to no purpose. The water was high, the rocks numerous and the current so swift that it was a physical impossibility to get at them before the whole boat load was drowning or dashed to pieces on the rocks which abounded. Efforts were made to recover their bodies and ten of them were found. The drowned men hailed principally from this vicinity.

DETROIT, Mich., July 20.—The Democratic State convention met yesterday, when William P. Wells, of Detroit, was made temporary chairman and F. H. Thomas temporary secretary. After the calling of the roll Chairman Weston, of the State Central Committee, announced that he had received a telegram from the Greenbacker convention at Grand Rapids, asking that a conference committee be appointed to confer with a similar committee from that body. The announcement was received with general favor and a committee composed of a member from each Congressional district was named. A recess was then taken until two o'clock. Upon reconvening the conference committee reported an agreement with the committee at Grand Rapids for a division of the ticket, the Greenbackers taking the Attorney-General, Auditor, Commissioner of the Land-office and three Electors. After a brief discussion the report was adopted and the convention adjourned until 7:30.

The body of William Gaston, aged sixty years, a prominent and wealthy citizen, was found near Elm Grove. His wife's remains were found two miles below Elm Grove hanging on a barbed wire fence. Charles Caulbell, of the Wheeling Newsletter, aged fifty years, was found among driftwood. Mrs. Jane Fay and her two grown daughters, Alice and May, were discovered a short distance below Triadelphia, and the bodies of two brothers named Gorman were found in a meadow.

Twenty-three persons are known to have been drowned, among them the sheriff of Marshall County.

Two cemeteries were washed out and the coffins with bodies floated down the river.

Two cemeteries were washed out and the coffins with bodies floated down the river.

The line of the Pittaburgh division of the Baltimore & Ohio will have to be practically rebuilt from Elm Grove to the Pennayivania State line. Six large and costly bridges were washed away and the track lifted from the roadbed and twisted into all conceivable shapes for miles at a stretch. At some places it is impossible to discern where the roadbed had been, while, with the exception of only an occasional gap on high and solid ground, the entire bed is badly washed.

Interest centers in the wreck of the Baltimore & Ohio bridge over the Wheeling crock at Hain street and the fatalities which attended that disaster. Several of those on the bridge were doubtless strangers in the city attracted by curiosity and their absences in ont noticed. So far as can be definitely known there were four women and three boys not since heard from on the bridge when it went down. The thirteen-year-old son of Daniel Richie and a twelve-year-old boy named Eddie Hathaway are missing.

It is impossible to give any details of losses for the resson that those who suffered can not estimate their own loss as yet, and every resident of low ground in the entire valley suffered damage ranging from 5100 to $10,000, while even those on the hills lost valuable crops, fences, etc. The Baltimore & Ohio Company's loss will reach $20,000; the Wheeling Natural Gas Company's $5,000; Kimmins & Hutchinson, Elm Grovs on the bridge will be at least $90,000; the Wheeling Natural Gas Company's $5,000; Phiesing & Elm Grove call work, $5,000; Kimmins & Hutchinson, Elm Grovs on the results being the second work, $5,000; Kimmins & Hutchinson, Elm Grovs on the hills height when the second work $5,000; Kimmins & Hutchinson, Elm Grovs on the hills being any of west Virginia, $5,000; Wheeling Kimmins & Hutchinson, Elm Grovs on the hills height when the second work $5,000; Kimmins & Hutchinson, Elm Grovs on the hills height when the second work $5,000; Kimmins & Hutchinson, Elm Grov passed a very important bill with respect to the use of telegraph lines constructed along the lines of railroads which have received bonds or land subsidies from the General Government. The bill, in short, provides that existing contracts which have been entered into between certain of these roads and the Western Union Company, under which the Western Union Company, under which the Western Union is given the exclusive control of all telegraph business on the lines of these respective roads, shall be at once canceled and that these subsidized roads shall forthwith maintain and operate the telegraph lines which they own, on their own account, and shall make rates which are just, equitable and uniform to all competing companies and shall make no discrimination between the second of the substance of the confession. This bill is the outgrowth of an agitation which com-menced in Kansas, Nebraska and Iowa. memced in Kansas, Nehraska and Iowa. It originated primarily in the effort of the Baltimore & Ohio Company, when it existed, to secure a connection to Colorado and the West. The subsidized railroads in question had entered into contracts with the Western Union Company, which still exist, under the terms of which the telegraph lines along these roads were placed under the sole control of the Western Union Company.

Storm in Ohio.

St. CLAIRSVILLE, O., July 20.—This place and vicinity were visited last evening by a thunderstorm with violent winds and a rainfall that cellpsed the average water-spout. Grain fields were laid waste, the shocked wheat was swept away and the growing corn is not to be seen. The Bellaire & St. Clairsville and the St. Clairsville & Northern railroads are almost entirely washed out. The incoming train on the Baltimore & Ohiowas stranded at Echo, and the train men and passengers barely escaped, the water filled with drift rumning to the headlight of the engine. It is feared that a number of lives have been lost. This place and vicinity are damaged no less than $100,000.

Collision in Fennsylvania.

Wilkesbanne, Pa., July 21.—Early yeaterday morning a collision occurred on the Lehigh and Susquebanna division of the Central railroad of New Jersey, in a tunnel on the mountain near White Haven, between a coal train and the night freight.

Officials of the company here are reticent, but one stated that, as far as he knew, one conductor was killed and five train hands badly injured. Both trains were running at a good rate of speed and both engines are total wrecks. Hany freight cars were were wrecked and hurled around on all sides of the tunnel. The accident was caused by one engineer forgetting his orders to look out for the other train.

FLOOD DISASTER.

Heavy Rains Cause Fearful Less of Life in West Virginia.

WEXELING, W. Va., July 20.—A terrific rain storm leating an hour and a quarter prevailed here last evening, flooding cellars along Main street and distributing debris from the hillsides along many thoroughfares, rendering them impassable.

About ten o'clock, while a number of people were standing on one of the bridges of the Baltimore & Ohio spanning Wheeling creek, watching the swift flow of the waters bearing wrecked shantles and debris of all kinds, the bridge suddenly debris of all kinds, the bridge suddenly debris of all kinds, the bridge suddenly gave way, participating all who were standing on it into the food.

The number of people who were on the bridge is not known; the estimates vary from twenty to thirty. Eight persons were rescued at a distance of a mile from the point where the bridge was located, and it is feared that from ten to twenty persons have perished. The city is intensely agitated over the disaster and persons whose whereabouts can not be ascertained are said to be among the number.

persons who were about can not be asber.

At Caldwell's run, in the lower part of the city, four dwellings were swept away
by the flood and eleven persons drowned.
A young man named Homan, the wife and four children of Thomas Hawley, three members of the family of John Stensell, a dairyman, and two visitors at his house
are among those believed to be drowned,
and it is feared there are more to be included in the number.

The railroad tracks on both sides of the river above and below the city have been covered with debris from the hillside and bridges have been either washed away or so much weakened as to be unsafe. A large picnic party from the city are on a train on the Panhandle between two washouts and can not reach the city. The track of the Elm Grove railroad for two miles is completely wrecked with one bridge gons, leaving at least 500 picnickers at Wheeling park who must walk home.

On the Ohio side great damage has been done, though so far no lives are reported lost.

Myron Hubbard, of the firm of Hubbard & Paul, wholesale grocers, was supposed to have been drowned, as he was on the wrecked Baltimore & Ohio bridge when it fell. No struct cars were running, the bridge which spanned Caldwell's run in the city having gone out.

The storm was the most severe known been since 1800.

The storm was the most severe known here since 1806.

A substantial bridge on the suburban Elm Grove motor line at Leatherwood was washed away. The loss in the city will reach $50,000, and the damage to crops in the country is inestimable.

Every hour or so new fatalities are reported. A man named Keltz was washed away by Bogg's run and he and his horse drowned.

Four lives were lost at Elm Grove, five

THE NEW YORE ANARCHISTS.

NEW YORE, July 19.—The Anarchists in this city are keeping very quiet over the dynamite plots of the Chicago Anarchists. The hot-bed of the New York Anarchists is in the Seventeenth Police Precinct, and if they have been plotting here, too, they have been doing it so as to avoid the attention of the police. They have not held any meetings for over a month past in any of the meeting rooms or saloons in that precinct, and the police say that if they have had meetings they must have been in some other precinct; that they couldn't very well do so without attracting the attention of the police officers there.
